Here, in addition to the question number, question text, interviewer instructions, and answer options, you find printed in green the file name and the variable name with the variable label, which contains information from the question. If you see rows of green lines below the answer option, the questionnaire defines several variables or information is stored in more than one data set.

The routing by filters is depicted in blue. Each variable is preceded by an identifier (which generally contains the question number, marked here with a yellow dotted line), which is given, if the variable is used in filters in a subsequent question. Such filters are usually shown (as gatekeepers) at the beginning of the question.

This reading aid does not cover a few exceptional cases: If the filter (as gatekeeper) only affects one of several variables for a question, the filter is printed in blue behind the variable. There you will also find a “go to” command in the form 2 @ Q73. Here, the questionnaire skips to question 73 if the variable results in value of 2.

Phrases that are not already translated in English are displayed in German and preceded by [de].

In the following we talk about conspiracy theories. A conspiracy theory illustrates an event from history or present different from how it is normally illustrated. Often it is supposed, that the event is a result from intentional influence of single persons or secret groups. Conspiracy theories are part of everyday life - spread throughout discussions with other people, magazines and newspapers, television, internet and other media. Some people believe in them while others dislike them. In the end there is generally no possibility to decide whether a conspiracy theory is true or wrong. Both, people who believe in, and people who do not believe in, could be right or wrong. Following we are interested, how much you are believe in the subsequent conspiracy theories.

To what extent do personally believe in the following conspiray theories?

Please answer using the following scale, where 0% means „surely not“ and 100% means „sure“.

Many very important things happen in the world, which the public is never informed about.

Politicians usually do not tell us the true motives for their decisions.

Government agencies closely monitor all citizens.

Events which superficially seem to lack a connection are often the result of secret activities.

There are secret organizations that greatly influence political decisions.

Einleitung_DRM  We would like to know now, what you have done yesterday and how you felt thereby. You will be asked first when you got up. Then you are asked to reconstruct that day using this list. Please think of your day as a sequence of episodes. In general episodes take 15 minutes to 2 hours. A sign for the of an episode could be the change of the location, the end of an activity and the start of another activity or the change of involved persons. Regarding some episodes we will pose some additional questions.

Explanation of the scientific principal regarding the background of this module:

One of the goals of social science is to find out, which elements of life influence our life satisfaction most. Therefore scientists need evaluations of persons about how satisfied they are with their current life. This question we pose every year at the end of the survey “Leben in Deutschland” (“Life in Germany”).

Sometimes however it is not sufficient, to ask Human in general, how satisfied they are. For this reason researchers started to interrogate persons for their feelings related to situations within the day. You shall provide information how you feel in certain moments and not just in total. This procedure allows us to get a more detailed view about the life of a person. Thereby we want examine how certain activities influence quality of life day by day.

Q297 When did you get up yesterday?
Please use the following format HH:MM. You can type in the time in this format or select the time.

Q298 What did you do afterwards? If you did several activities at the same time, we are initially interested in the most important activity. Please select from this list:
