Running since 1984, the German Socio-Economic Panel study (SOEP) is a wide-ranging representative longitudinal study of private households, located at the German Institute for Economic Research, DIW Berlin.

The aim of the SOEP Survey Papers Series is to thoroughly document the survey's data collection and data processing. The SOEP Survey Papers is comprised of the following series:

Series A – Survey Instruments (Erhebungsinstrumente)

Series B – Survey Reports (Methodenberichte)

Series C – Data Documentation (Datendokumentationen)

Series D – Variable Descriptions and Coding

Series E – SOEPmonitors

Series F – SOEP Newsletters

Series G – General Issues and Teaching Materials

The SOEP Survey Papers are available at <http://www.diw.de/soepsurveyspapers>

Reading Aid

This representation of the questionnaire contains the same informations as the portal paneldata.org.

The diagram shows a questionnaire form with the following elements and labels:

- question number: Q72
- question text: Now we would like to know something about you personally. Were you born in Germany?
- interviewer instruction: This refers to Germany or the Federal Republic of Germany or the German Democratic Republic in the national borders at the time of your birth.
- answer options:
  - Yes 1
  - No 2
  - No answer -1
- in blue: identifier for filter: Q72;lsta1 bio l0013 born in Germany
- in blue: filter with condition: Q72;lsta1=2
- grey bar: open or numeric answer: Q73 What country were you born in? Please enter the current name!
- in green: dataset name (Q73;lsta2), variable name (bio), variable label (l0016 Country Of Birth)

Here, in addition to the question number, question text, interviewer instructions, and answer options, you find printed in green the file name and the variable name with the variable label, which contains information from the question. If you see rows of green lines below the answer option, the questionnaire defines several variables or informations are stored in more than one data set.

The routing by filters is depicted in blue. Each variable is preceded by an identifier (which generally contains the question number, marked here with a yellow dotted line), which is given, if the variable is used in filters in a subsequent question. Such filters are usually shown (as gatekeepers) at the beginning of the question.

This reading aid does not cover a few exceptional cases: If the filter (as gatekeeper) only affects one of several variables for a question, the filter is printed in blue behind the variable. There you will also find a "go to" command in the form 2 @ Q73. Here, the questionnaire skips to question 73 if the variable results in value of 2.

Phrases that are not already translated in English are displayed in German and preceded by [de].

Q70intro In the following we talk about conspiracy theories. A conspiracy theory illustrates an event from history or present different from how it is normally illustrated. Often it is supposed, that the event is a result from intentional influence of single persons or secret groups. Conspiracy theories are part of everyday life - spread throughout discussions with other people, magazines and newspapers, television, internet and other media. Some people believe in them while others dislike them. In the end there is generally no possibility to decide whether a conspiracy theory is true or wrong. Both, people who believe in, and people who do not believe in, could be right or wrong. Following we are interested, how much you are believe in the subsequent conspiracy theories.

Q283Intro1 In the following, we present you five different job offers. All offers are full-time employments (40 hours per week), but some will provide the possibility to work fewer hours. The offers differ in further characteristics like career prospects. Accepting the offers will in most cases change your net household income. For all of these offers we will ask you to rate a) the attractiveness of the offer for you, b) the likelihood that you will to accept it, and c) the likelihood that you will move to the new location together with your partner. All offers are at other locations in Germany. Please suppose in any case that the regional locations provide you similar living conditions as your actual place of living (such as similar costs for housing and living, similar leisure-time options). We are only interested in your preferences for different working conditions!

Q283Intro2 I will soon commit the laptop to you. Then you can read and answer the case studies by yourself and at rest. The response to the first question works like this:

Q287Intro1 In the following, we present you five different job offers made to <name of partner>. These offers are fictitious. All offers are full-time employments (40 hours per week), but some will provide the possibility to work fewer hours. The offers differ in further characteristics like career prospects. Accepting the offers will in most cases change your net household income. For all of these offers we will ask you to rate a) the attractiveness of the offer for you, b) the likelihood that you will to accept it, and c) the likelihood that you will move to the new location together with your partner. All offers are at other locations in Germany. Please suppose in any case that the jobs fit to the qualifications of and experience of <name of your partner> and that the regional locations provide you similar living conditions as your actual place of living (such as similar costs for housing and living, similar leisure-time options). We are only interested in your preferences for different working conditions!

Q287Intro2 I will soon commit the laptop to you. Then you can read and answer the case studies by yourself and at rest. The response to the first question works like this:

If you find an offer very unalluring, please mark the outermost left field.

If you find an offer very attractive, please mark the outermost right field.

You can weigh your answers with the fields in between.

Einleitung_DRM We would like to know now, what you have done yesterday and how you felt thereby. You will be asked first when you got up. Then you are asked to reconstruct that day using this list. Please think of your day as a sequence of episodes. In general episodes take 15 minutes to 2 hours. A sign for the of an episode could be the change of the location, the end of an activity and the start of another activity or the change of involved persons. Regarding some episodes we will pose some additional questions.

Explanation of the scientific principal regarding the background of this module:

One of the goals of social science is to find out, which elements of life influence our life satisfaction most. Therefor scientists need evaluations of persons about how satisfied they are with their current life. This question we pose every year at the end of the survey "Leben in Deutschland" ("Life in Germany").

Sometimes however it is not sufficient, to ask Human in general, how satisfied they are. For this reason researchers started to interrogate persons for their feelings related to situations within the day. You shall provide information how you feel in certain moments and not just in total. This procedure allows us to get a more detailed view about the life of a person. Thereby we want to examine how certain activities influence quality of life day by day.

Q297 When did you get up yesterday?

Please use the following format HH:MM. You can type in the time in this format or select the time.

Q297;q1drm_a idrm drm_a When did you get up yesterday?
