Reading Aid

This representation of the questionnaire contains the same informations as the portal paneldata.org.

The diagram illustrates the structure of a questionnaire entry. It shows two questions, Q72 and Q73, with their respective text, instructions, and answer options. Labels on the left point to specific parts of the entry:

- question number: Points to the question number (e.g., Q72).
- question text: Points to the main text of the question.
- interviewer instruction: Points to the instruction text (e.g., "This refers to Germany...").
- answer options: Points to the list of possible answers (e.g., Yes, No, No answer).
- in blue: identifier for filter: Points to the identifier (e.g., Q72:lsta1).
- in blue: filter with condition: Points to the filter condition (e.g., Q72:LSTA1=2).
- grey bar: open or numeric answer: Points to the grey bar indicating the type of answer.

On the right, a label points to the green text: "in green: dataset name variable name variable label".

Question 72: Q72 Now we would like to know something about you personally. Were you born in Germany?
 This refers to Germany or the Federal Republic of Germany or the German Democratic Republic in the national borders at the time of your birth.
 Yes 1
 No 2
 No answer -1
 Q72:lsta1 bio I0013 born in Germany
 Q72:LSTA1=2
 Q73 What country were you born in?
 Please enter the current name!
 Q73:lsta2 bio I0016 Country Of Birth

Here, in addition to the question number, question text, interviewer instructions, and answer options, you find printed in green the file name and the variable name with the variable label, which contains information from the question. If you see rows of green lines below the answer option, the questionnaire defines several variables or informations are stored in more than one data set.

The routing by filters is depicted in blue. Each variable is preceded by an identifier (which generally contains the question number, marked here with a yellow dotted line), which is given, if the variable is used in filters in a subsequent question. Such filters are usually shown (as gatekeepers) at the beginning of the question.

This reading aid does not cover a few exceptional cases: If the filter (as gatekeeper) only affects one of several variables for a question, the filter is printed in blue behind the variable. There you will also find a "go to" command in the form 2 @ Q73. Here, the questionnaire skips to question 73 if the variable results in value of 2.

Phrases that are not already translated in English are displayed in German and preceded by [de].

UE42 Questions before the treatment

Q254322

The following questions should only be heard by the participant and no other household members.

Q132 The financial success of a person can be related to circumstances they can influence, for example personal effort, or to circumstances that are not under control of the person, for example luck.

Q133 What is, in your opinion, the most likely reason that a person in Germany has a high income? Is it because of personal effort or because of luck?

Please answer on the following scale: 1 equals "only luck". 10 equals "only effort". You can use the values in between to make your estimate.

Q135 For our next module "income distribution", we would like to know the gross income (before any taxes) of your household in the year 2016. This includes your wage, earnings from self-employment, investment income, pension payments and other private payments such as alimony. If you do not know it exactly, please try to estimate it as precisely as possible. Are you sure that you did not have any income in 2016 or that your income was so low? Please consider any kind of income including wage, earnings from self-employment, investment income, pension payments and other private payments such as alimony.

If no income or a very low income (below 3000 EUR) is given, please ask again:

Q137 You reported that your gross household income in the year 2016 was EUR [Amount] and that your household had [Number] members. This means that the gross income per capita in your household in 2016 was EUR [Amount]. We are now going to ask some questions about this gross income per capita. We are interested in your estimate how your income compares to that of other people. Please be truthful and as accurate as possible in your estimate. You can win money depending on the accuracy of your estimate. For both of the following questions, you will get 20 EUR at the end of the interview if your estimate is correct. If your estimate is not correct, you will not get any money.

Upon inquiry, please answer: At the end of the module, we will determine whether your estimate was correct. However, the payment will not be made until the end of the interview.

Please click "Continue" and give the laptop to the participant.

Q139 How many percent of the German population do you think had a total annual gross household income per capita lower than yours in 2016?

Please give your answer in percent. 0 percent means that you are the poorest person in Germany. 100 percent means that you are the richest person in Germany. You can use the values in between to make your estimate.

UE46 Innovation module financial market expectation

Q849 We would like to talk to you about your expectations regarding the stock market.

Please click "Continue" and give the laptop to the participant.

Q850A Please imagine investing 50,000 € from your own property. You can spread this amount on these two investments: 1. government bonds of the German state that yield an interest of 4% guaranteed. 2. The German stock index DAX that combines the economic development of 30 large companies from Germany. Please imagine further that the earnings of the investment will be paid out exactly one year from now. The calculation is as follows: 1. To calculate the return of your investment in federal bonds is straight forward: An interest of 4% yields you 4€ for certain for each 100€ you have invested. 2. If you win or lose with your investment in the DAX depends on profit or loss that the DAX undergoes in the next year till [current day].[current month].[Survey year + 1]. If the DAX, for example, increases by 15% you will gain 15€ profit for each 100€ you have invested. Vice versa, if the DAX decreases by 15% you will lose 15€ for each 100€ you have invested. Profit and loss behave analogously for any other percentage gain or loss of the DAX. Please imagine we would determine the investments in one year from now and pay out both investments.

Q850B It might not be easy to come to a decision. That's why we provide additional information. We have randomly chosen two years from 1951-2016. In these two years, the DAX yielded, first, a [profit/loss] of [profit/loss] percent, and second, a [profit/loss] of [profit/loss] percent.

[n7441006Eins + n7441006Zwei <> 50000 & Q850CF1 >= 0]

Q850C In summary: The Federal Government Bond yields a return of 4% in any case, while investments in the DAX are linked to the actual development of the DAX over the next year on a 1:1 ratio. Please take your time to consider how you would split up the 50,000 EUR between the two investments. How much of the 50,000 EUR do you invest in the Federal Government Bond and how much in the DAX?

In the Federal Government Bond, EUR:

In the DAX, EUR:

Please make sure that the two amounts add up to exactly 50,000 EUR.

UE69 Innovation module on income distribution Part 2

UE70 Treatment

[Q20195120,1] [nGruppe = 2]

Q269 Now, we would like to talk about the distribution of gross household income per capita in Germany and worldwide. This data is based on representative and independently collected data of scientifically recognized institutions, such as the panel study "Leben in Deutschland" (life in Germany), the World Bank and the Luxembourg Income Study Center.

There shall be no discussions or feedback regarding the correctness of the participants' estimates. If the participant asks about the correctness of their estimates, please point out that it will be determined at the end of the module.

[Q20195120,1] [nGruppe = 2]

Q270 [Amount]% of the German population are poorer than you, meaning that they have a total gross household income per capita which is lower than yours.

Please let the participant look at the screen for the picture "Stickmen Germany".

UE71 Questions after the treatment - Part 1

Q272 Now we are going to talk about redistribution. Redistribution of income means that the state reduces the differences in income between citizens via taxes and transfer payments.

[nGruppe = 2]

Q273 How much redistribution of income between the citizens of Germany do you support? No redistribution means that the state does not interfere in the distribution of income. Complete redistribution means that everyone earns the same income after redistribution is conducted.

Please answer on the following scale: 1 equals "no redistribution". 10 equals "complete redistribution". You can use the values in between to make your estimate.

UE72 Experiment

[nGruppe = 2]

Q276 Now, we would like to give you two tasks with which you could earn money again. In the two tasks, you have to decide whether to split a certain amount of money between another household and you or not. At the end, every 7th participant will be selected and their decision in one of the two tasks will be paid out. Whether your decision will be paid out is determined at the end of the module. The actual payment will occur at the end of the interview.

Q277 You were paired with another household in Germany who is also a participant in the innovation sample "Leben in Deutschland" but is not taking part in this interview. This household belongs to the poorest 10 percent of households in Germany. Now, you have 50 EUR at your disposal and can split this amount between the other household and you in any way you want. If this task is selected for payout, you will receive the amount you decided to keep at the end of the interview. The amount you want to give the other household will be given in full to the other household (without transaction costs) at the end of the field period by Kantar Public. In full means that every given euro will be received by the other household 1:1. I ask you to make this decision alone now.

Please give the laptop to the participant.

Q278 How much of the 50 EUR do you want to keep and how much do you want to give the other household?

UE135 Innovation module on past and future self

Q528 Now we would like to know how similar you feel to your past and future self. So, how similar do you feel to the person you have been in the past and the person you will be in the future? You will see small pictures illustrating similarity between your current self and your past or future self. For each of the following time frames, please choose the picture that fits you best.

Upon inquiry: Past: What are the personality features, attitudes, values and life goals that make you the person you are today? The greater the change in these characteristics has been over time, the lower you should rate the similarity to your past self. Future: What are the personality features, attitudes, values and life goals that make you the person you are today? The greater you expect the change in these characteristics to be over time, the lower you should rate the similarity to your future self.

Please turn around the laptop so that the respondent can look at the screen for the following six questions concerning the past and future self. Please also show list 528!
