Reading Aid

This representation of the questionnaire contains the same informations as the portal paneldata.org.

The diagram illustrates the structure of a questionnaire entry. It shows two questions, Q72 and Q73, with their respective text, instructions, and answer options. Below each question, variables are listed with their identifiers, dataset names, and variable labels. A legend explains the color coding: green for dataset name, variable name, and variable label; blue for filters; and grey for open or numeric answers.

Question	Text	Options	Variables
Q72	Now we would like to know something about you personally. Were you born in Germany? This refers to Germany or the Federal Republic of Germany or the German Democratic Republic in the national borders at the time of your birth.	Yes (1) No (2) No answer (-1)	Q72:lsta1 bio I0013 born in Germany Q72:lsta1=2
Q73	What country were you born in? Please enter the current name!		Q73:lsta2 bio I0016 Country Of Birth

Here, in addition to the question number, question text, interviewer instructions, and answer options, you find printed in green the file name and the variable name with the variable label, which contains information from the question. If you see rows of green lines below the answer option, the questionnaire defines several variables or informations are stored in more than one data set.

The routing by filters is depicted in blue.

Each variable is preceded by an identifier, which usually contains the question number and which is used when the variable is used in filters in subsequent questions. Such filters are usually placed as input filters (gatekeepers) at the beginning of a question. An identifier that is referred to in the input filter of a subsequent question is marked yellow as an example.

This reading aid does not cover a few exceptional cases: If the filter (as gatekeeper) only affects one of several variables for a question, the filter is printed in blue behind the variable. There you will also find a "go to" command in the form 2 @ Q73. Here, the questionnaire skips to question 73 if answer 2 was given.

Phrases that are not already translated in English are displayed in German and preceded by [de].

Intro1 This questionnaire is addressed to young persons in the household, who were born in 2004.

Your cooperation is voluntary. The scientific validity of this survey depends crucially on the participation of every member of every household.

Therefore we kindly ask all students of this age:

- To allow our representative to carry out this interview
- or to fill out the questionnaire carefully yourself.

Intro2 At first we kindly ask you, as parents or legal guardians to give your permission to the survey of your child, who is stated below.

In the end of the questionnaire the interviewer will confirm that the interview wasn't started until you gave your approval!

Should the survey be exercised in the absence of an interviewer, you give your approval by handing out the questionnaire to your child!

The student should be given the possibility to answer the questions without any influence of his/her parents!
