Reading Aid

This representation of the questionnaire contains the same informations as the portal `paneldata.org`.

The diagram illustrates the structure of a questionnaire question. It shows a box containing the following elements:

- question number: Q72
- question text: Now we would like to know something about you personally. Were you born in Germany?
- interviewer instruction: This refers to Germany or the Federal Republic of Germany or the German Democratic Republic in the national borders at the time of your birth.
- answer options: Yes (1), No (2), No answer (-1)
- in blue: identifier for filter: Q72:lsta1
- in blue: filter with condition: Q72:lsta1=2
- in green: dataset name, variable name, variable label: bio I0013 born in Germany
- grey bar: open or numeric answer: Q73:lsta2 bio I0016 Country Of Birth

Arrows point from the labels on the left to the corresponding elements in the questionnaire box. A legend on the right explains the green color coding: dataset name, variable name, and variable label.

Here, in addition to the question number, question text, interviewer instructions, and answer options, you find printed in green the file name and the variable name with the variable label, which contains information from the question. If you see rows of green lines below the answer option, the questionnaire defines several variables or informations are stored in more than one data set.

The routing by filters is depicted in blue.

Each variable is preceded by an identifier, which usually contains the question number and which is used when the variable is used in filters in subsequent questions. Such filters are usually placed as input filters (gatekeepers) at the beginning of a question. An identifier that is referred to in the input filter of a subsequent question is marked yellow as an example.

This reading aid does not cover a few exceptional cases: If the filter (as gatekeeper) only affects one of several variables for a question, the filter is printed in blue behind the variable. There you will also find a "go to" command in the form 2 @ Q73. Here, the questionnaire skips to question 73 if answer 2 was given.

Phrases that are not already translated in English are displayed in German and preceded by [de].

B016b IAB module: Intentions for naturalization

Q113a;plj0014_v3=2

Q113g In the following part of the survey, we would like to learn more about your naturalisation intentions. Naturalisation in Germany offers you some benefits, such as universal suffrage, legal equality and protection, as well as other opportunities for social participation. You can choose your own profession and can also become a civil servant. In addition, you benefit from freedom of movement and freedom of travel in Europe and can also travel outside Europe without a visa to many countries. However, naturalisation is subject to requirements. For example, you need an unlimited or permanent right of residence at the time of naturalisation and must affirm your commitment to the liberal democratic basic order of the German constitution. In addition, you must be able to independently secure your livelihood for you and your dependants and must not be convicted of a criminal offence. Furthermore, there are other requirements, but also exceptions and allowances. In the following section, we will illustrate a hypothetical situation, i.e. a way in which naturalisation could be legally arranged. This does not mean that the naturalisation requirements in Germany are actually as described here, and we cannot offer you naturalisation as part of this interview. Please consider whether you would apply for naturalisation under the specified conditions.
